

Movie script

Scene: Hello world!

Field of all characters; all moving in different motion
Some are behaving singular, others in groups or duos talking or doing something.

Takes inspiration from dogville and game menu.

Voice over of "Hi!... Hi! " or "Hello!" , inspired by game menu.

Characters should improvise - without script. Just behave in their character.

We need a lot of footage of this field (better if even at different moments of the day[morning,noon,evening]) as this will be the scene with interactions and overview the movie comes back to frequently.
